About VR Systems, Inc. (VRS): VRS was founded in 1994 as a client server consulting services firm by Radha Visweswar. Initially, through a partnership with Powersoft Corporation (now known as Sybase, Inc), VRS provided IT services focused in the areas of database applications to companies like AT&T, ETS, McKesson Corporation, Wells Fargo and others. Around 1996, the company introduced a proprietary software application EZStaff (a service management tool) which enlarged the scope of its consulting services to provide full life cycle development services. Established business processes and proprietary service delivery software distinguish the Company from its competitors. Today, VRS' service offering includes web based application development, database administration and design, data warehousing, Microsoft centric solutions, systems testing, quality assurance, project management and network administration services to Fortune 1000 clients.
